

ALEXANDER 1232 or 1267

Alexander, by the grace of god King of Scots, to all good men of his whole land, cleric and lay greetings.

Let them know both present and to come that we have granted and by this our charter have confirmed to Gillanders MacLeod those established lands underwritten, of Salic and Neuechbarr, Talacmaccarbaloch Balehergrossyn, Kecech and Kennebred to be had and held by the same Gillanders and his heirs from us and our heirs in fee and heredity by their rightful boundaries and with all their just pertinents. In wood and plain, in land and water, in grazings and pastures, in moors and marshes, in pools and mills, with profits derived from jurisdiction and dry measures, with fruits and foliage, with thol and them and infangthief and with all other (items) justly pertouning to the aforesaid lands freely, quietly, fully and honourably by the service of one knight saving the rights of the church of Brechin and of the abbot of Brechin by the annual payment of ten shillings of Kennebred.

We have also given to the same Gillanders and his heirs whom he has from Fortheloch his legal wife, daughter of Bricii, the judge , Kerdan and Brechyn throughout their certain boundaries and with all other his just pertinents, fully and honourably within the said service of one knight at the same time with the foresaid land and by doing the service to all the foresaid lands.

Witnesses W. of Bondington chancellor, Walter Bysech, David of Haltengys, David Cumming, William Bisset. Michael of Montealto, Thomas Mathers, at Forfar the 19th day of April the 18th year of the reign of the lord the King.
