Step 1

Are there any statutory legal requirements affecting this proposal? If so please describe.

Section 15 of the Procurement Reform (Scotland) Act 2014 (the "2014 Act") requires any public organisation, which has an estimated total value of regulated procurement spend of £5 million or more (excluding VAT) in a financial year, to prepare and publish a procurement strategy. Such organisations must also publish an annual report within 4 months of the end of their financial year and carry out an annual review of their procurement strategy.

The function of the Council's annual procurement report is to:

- aid stakeholder (citizen and government) visibility of procurement activities
- be a mechanism for conveying how the Council is meeting legislative procurement requirements; and
- outline how the Council's procurement activity is contributing to the delivery of its broader aims and objectives.
- address all of the commitments contained in the Council's procurement strategy and support the annual review of the strategy.

The function of the Council's procurement strategy is to:

- underpin the Council's strategic plan, comprised by the Angus Local Outcomes Improvement Plan/Corporate Plan and provide a strategic focus for our procurement activities.
- set the context in which the Council will work to ensure that procurement delivers value for money and directly contributes to the achievement of its broader aims, objectives and, where relevant, those of our Angus Community Planning Partnership.
- demonstrate how the Council ensures it has considered the wider social, economic and environmental aims of procurement in a consistent manner as required by the sustainable procurement duty under the 2014 Act.
- to help businesses understand what is important to the Council in the performance and delivery of a contract.

Step 6

Yes No

If yes, give details

The procurement strategy refers to and incorporates the Council's internal policy response to:

- the unified public sector general equality duty under the Equality Act 2010 (to pay 'due regard' to the need to:
 - Eliminate unlawful discrimination, harassment and victimisation and other conduct that is prohibited by the Equality Act 2010;
 - Advance equality of opportunity between people who share a relevant protected characteristic and those who do not; and
 - Foster good relations between people who share a protected characteristic and those who do not); and
- The specific duty under the Equality Act 2010 (Specific Duties) (Scotland) Regulations 2012 to consider the application of award criteria and conditions in relation to public procurement to help it better perform the general equality duty.

As set out in Procurement Guidance Note (PGN) 36 Equalities and Procurement. That policy was approved by Angus Council's Policy & Resources Committee at its meeting on 2 December 2014 (Report 494/14 refers).

The policy response as set out in that PGN promotes equality in terms of the following guiding principles:

- Angus Council can and should promote good practice on equality matters with our suppliers and provide guidance & information to them (see Annex 1) in this regard.
- We should only seek information from suppliers when we're going to use it to evaluate them.

- Evaluation of equalities experience / past performance of our suppliers is predominantly about the quality of the supplier's organisation and staff so equalities' track-record should be evaluated as part of supplier selection (i.e. at pre-qualification stage), not tender evaluation).
- Imposing a "standard term" contractual obligation on suppliers to comply with discrimination law is not always enough on its own – those setting requirements for the Council (particularly for public-facing services) must make sure that diversity and equality issues are considered while the contract specification is being designed.
- Where specification of equalities performance requirements is necessary, it will rarely be possible to specify performance standards exhaustively with all necessary quality "built-in" so therefore will normally require qualitative tender evaluation and stipulation of weighted equalities criteria.
- The specific duty only formally applies to EU value procurement. However, the general duty applies to all Council functions including procurement and at all levels and for all procedures. The good practice on equalities and procurement set out in this PGN should be applied below EU level as well but not to "low value" procurement exercises – this is on a proportionate basis.
