Comment Reasons:

Comment: Your drawings you have sent are not very clear . Have been on site is this another garage or the one that was built about 4 -5 months ago as we already complained about the height of this garage by phone and at council . I asked why we had not be informed about this before it was built and was told didnt need planning permission so if is same garage why are we being informed know ? . Name for planning permission is same as guy who has built one out back of us if it is another garage i will be protesting about it definitely .I will pop into council offices on Tuesday or Wednesday to see whats going on .

Comment: Good afternoon,

I am confused into what this planning permission is for. There was already a wooden garage built end of last year without any planning permission or letters which is built directly right across from my property. Is this the same garage thats there or is there another one as i am totally against the garage in the first place as it's and eyesore from my property.

Regards

Kieran Findlater
