██████████, with whom I am sharing this email, had mentioned that it would be in order for me to write to you to identify my support and of all involved in the Chaffinch Trust for the possible plans for Arbroath which has the support of so many wonderful people and their organisations, from Zero Waste Scotland as well as Construction Scotland Innovation Centre.

██████████ enthusiastically suggested contacting her charitable fund for support!! This evening I have a presentation to make to Rotary International and Arbroath will get a major mention!!! My friends from the Royal Marines are standing by to help in any developments.

██████████ has been an utter tower of strength and his energy and determination remarkable, he really seems to know no boundary!

He has my absolute and total confidence and his plans seem wise sensible and achievable. His commitment to the area is legendary; a very special man.

My plans are to visit as soon as possible and if there is any support that I can give in any possible way please have no hesitation in asking.

All my friends and acquaintances are learning on a daily basis about the wonders of Arbroath and the potential that this example of corporation, collaboration and communication between people and organisations, creating something of real importance for the community can achieve.

I have been keeping our Patron, Guardian, The Princess Royal informed of all the developments in Arbroath and with your blessing share this email with her and the office?

Yours ever,

Supporting emails

Sending this email to confirm in writing that Zero Waste Scotland are committed to supporting the project in Arbroath to build a community building made from recycled materials.

This support along with partners the Chaffinch Trust and Construction Scotland Innovation Centre (CSIC) will include:

- Specialist advice and support in sustainable construction.
- Supporting funding applications.
- Project management assistance.
- Potential funding to assist with the sustainability aspects of the build.

As discussed at our meeting at the CSIC in March, once the land is in the control of your organisations they will be able to allocate the support / funding detailed in the from [REDACTED] CSIC.

This will allow an overall project plan to be developed and industry / academic partners to be secured.

Thanks
