2. BACKGROUND

Members, officers and staff of Angus Health and Social Care Partnership work in conjunction with others within Angus and across Tayside on a regular basis to ensure that services are provided in a fit and proper way. Working groups take many forms but a number of them involve collaborative working with other agencies across Angus or Tayside. Many working groups will have an operational focus; others will have a governance role. The status of work for those that do have a governance role will be of interest to the IJB.

It is therefore the intention to provide the IJB with an annual update of the status of the main groups that do fulfil a governance role but are not under the direct management of the Health and Social Care Partnership. Information is generally available separately regarding these groups and this report aims to bring this information together for Board Members, ensuring they are sighted on the breadth of work undertaken. This information is listed in Appendix 1 attached.

3. CURRENT POSITION

Officers and staff of Angus Health and Social Care Partnership continue to work in conjunction with others within Angus and across Tayside to ensure that services are provided in a fit and proper way
