4. MOTION IN TERMS OF STANDING ORDER 25(1)

Scottish Youth Parliament Elections

Councillor Julie Bell has submitted the following motion:

'This council recognises that elections to the Scottish Youth Parliament are taking place in November 2023 and congratulates all the young people in Angus who have put themselves forward as candidates.

It is vital that young people understand citizenship and democracy from an early age and engage in democracy and the Scottish Youth Parliament is central to that.

This council:

1. Recognises the Scottish Youth Parliament (SYP) as the democratically elected voice of Scotland's Young People.
2. Notes that any young person in Scotland aged 14 to 25 can apply to be candidate in the SYP elections either for their constituency or national voluntary organisation and that this council area covers both Angus South and Angus North and Mearns constituencies;

3. Encourages young people aged between 12 to 25 to vote in the SYP elections and to participate in this vital sphere of local and national democracy;
4. Highlights that the Scottish Youth Parliament has made significant contributions towards public life and young people's representation in Scotland by campaigning on issues important to young people and calling upon the Scottish Government to meaningfully engage with young people;
5. Affirms that members of the Scottish Youth Parliament for Angus South, and the member of the Scottish Youth Parliament for Angus North and Mearns will continue to be supported by Angus Council to make contributions to public life and representation of young people in Angus, whilst also representing the views of young people in Angus on a national level;
6. Agrees that elections to the Scottish Youth Parliament will be instrumental in promoting the opportunities the Scottish Youth Parliament can offer to young people in Angus - hopefully inspiring young people with a passion for community, charity, politics and democracy to have their voices heard;
7. Instructs officers to continue to support and promote these important elections to young people across our county, and;
8. Wishes all candidates the very best in their campaigns.'
